

Newsletter: November Issue

WORLD PRESS FREEDOM CONFERENCE 2020

DIGITAL EDITION 9-10 DECEMBER

In this issue:

- Top journalist, TV host Christiane Amanpour among confirmed speakers
- Updated programme for 9 and 10 December
- Just published: Special brochure for #EndImpunity Day including the highlights of UNESCO's report on safety of journalists and the danger of impunity
- Win an Investigative Journalism masterclass: participate in the #PressFreedom video contest

Slots are limited: reserve your spot for WPFC quickly!
Sign Up Now

Christiane Amanpour among top speakers

We are excited to announce that renowned journalists Christiane Amanpour, Soledad O'Brien, Carole Cadwalladr and Joe Maalouf have confirmed their attendance for WPFC 2020. Curious about their contributions? Sign up now. We look forward to meeting you digitally on 9 and 10 December!

View speakers list >>

Updated Programme

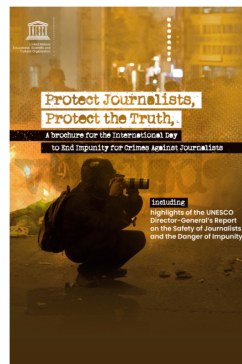

A new, updated version of the programme is online. More session details, organizing partners and the time table (CET) are now included in the programme schedule. Don't miss the sessions of your choice and mark them down in your calendar!

View the programme >>

Out Now: Special brochure on the safety of journalists and the danger of impunity

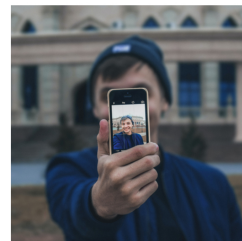

Attacked, arrested, injured or even murdered. Journalists sometimes risk their lives in the pursuit of their profession. Today, 2 November, we commemorate the annual IDEI, on which we reflect on press freedom and the safety of journalists. This recent publication reveals the latest figures on resolved cases of killed journalists condemned by UNESCO.

Read the brochure >>
Download/share campaign materials >>
#ProtectJournalists #EndImpunity

#PressFreedom Video Contest

"Our liberty depends on the freedom of the press," Thomas Jefferson once said. But what does press freedom mean to you? Follow us on Instagram or Twitter, tell us in a 10 second video what press freedom means to you, and send it in via @UnescoNow. And get a chance to win a Masterclass Investigative Journalism: organized by the renowned Radio Netherlands Training Centre

(RNTC).

Enter the contest >>

Find us online

Follow WPFC 2020 on Twitter, Instagram and YouTube
Check WPFC2020.com regularly for updates and news

Copyright © UNESCO and the Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs, 2020

WPFC2020-COM@minbuza.nl

You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View newsletter in browser